Since the internet speeds went above the 500kbps mark, the number of things people can do with their interconnected devices skyrocketed. Automated homes, connected cars, and internet enabled TVs. The latter is what threatens to revolutionize the entertainment world as we know it, do away with cable TV and abolish the need for expensive blue-ray players. Even though smart TVs are so lucrative, most people find them either too costly, or limiting. The alternative would be going for a TV with an HDMI port, a USB port and purchasing a dongle to bring in the power of internet TV. Chromecast is one of the best and cheapest such tools in the market.

WIFI is everything for most people and then it's so important to have a home WIFI but most people spend lots of money trying to fix a home Wi-Fi when it's not supposed to cost much. A simple mesh system can provide reliable Wi-Fi coverage in most homes without dipping a hole in your pocket. But in case you do have the opportunity of access to faster home online, like what gigabit fiber is able to provide, you may need something more. That is where high end Wi Fi 6 enabled mesh devices like the Eero Pro six are available in. They are able to distribute your fast connection throughout your house and never have to cope with pesky wiring and allow you to take full advantage of the bandwidth you are forking cash over for every month. It comes in a compact size, very sleek, very easy to set up, it has a solid stability and a great coverage. We are going to be walking through the set up process and other tips that you need to know about the Eero Pro 6 in this guide, enjoy.
